

WALRUS

Walrus spend two-thirds of their life in the water.

They have long teeth called tusks, which never stop growing.

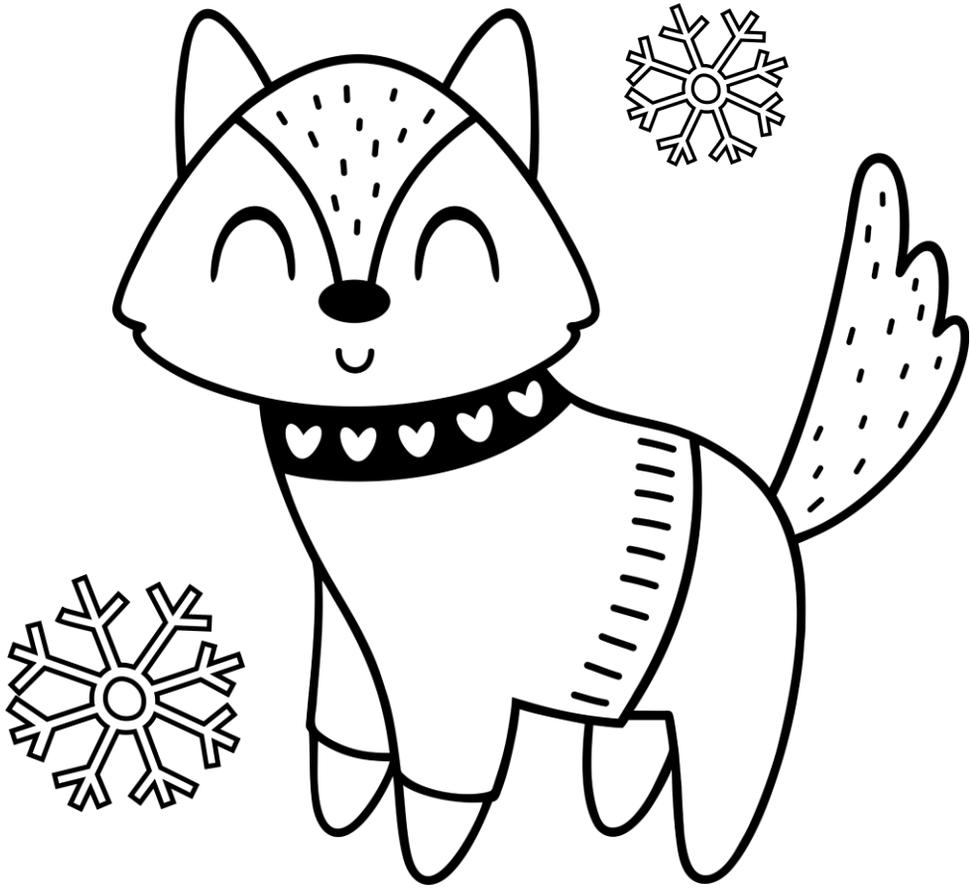

POLAR BEAR

Polar bears have a very strong sense of smell.

Their diet is high in fat, and makes up half of their body weight.

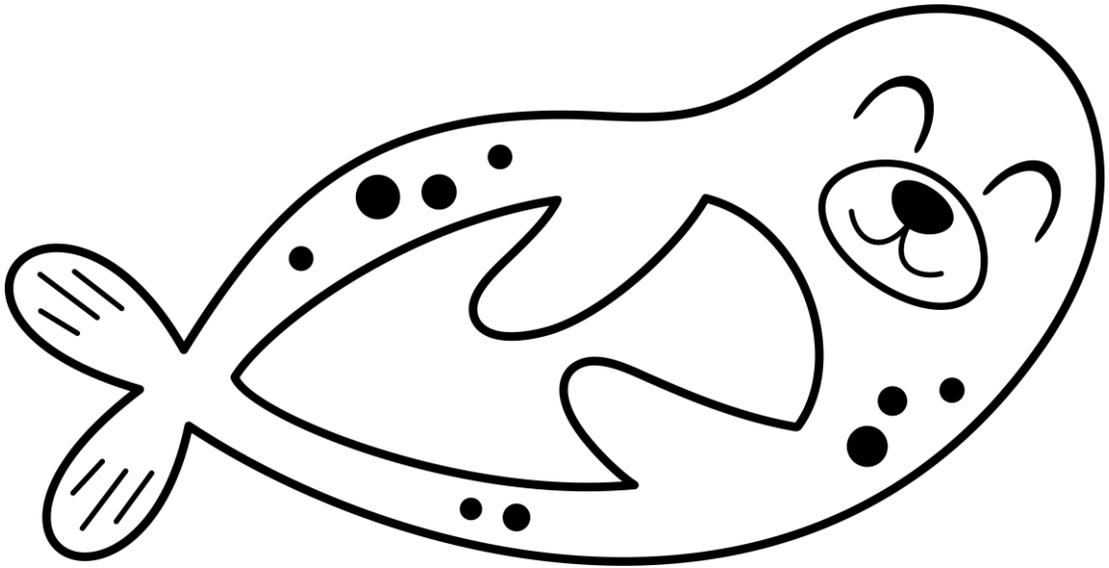

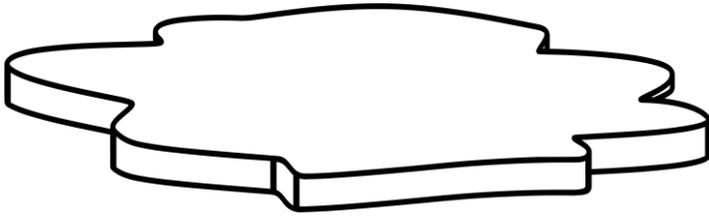

ARCTIC FOX

Arctic foxes wrap their thick tails around themselves while sleeping.

Their coat of fur keeps changing color, depending on the season.

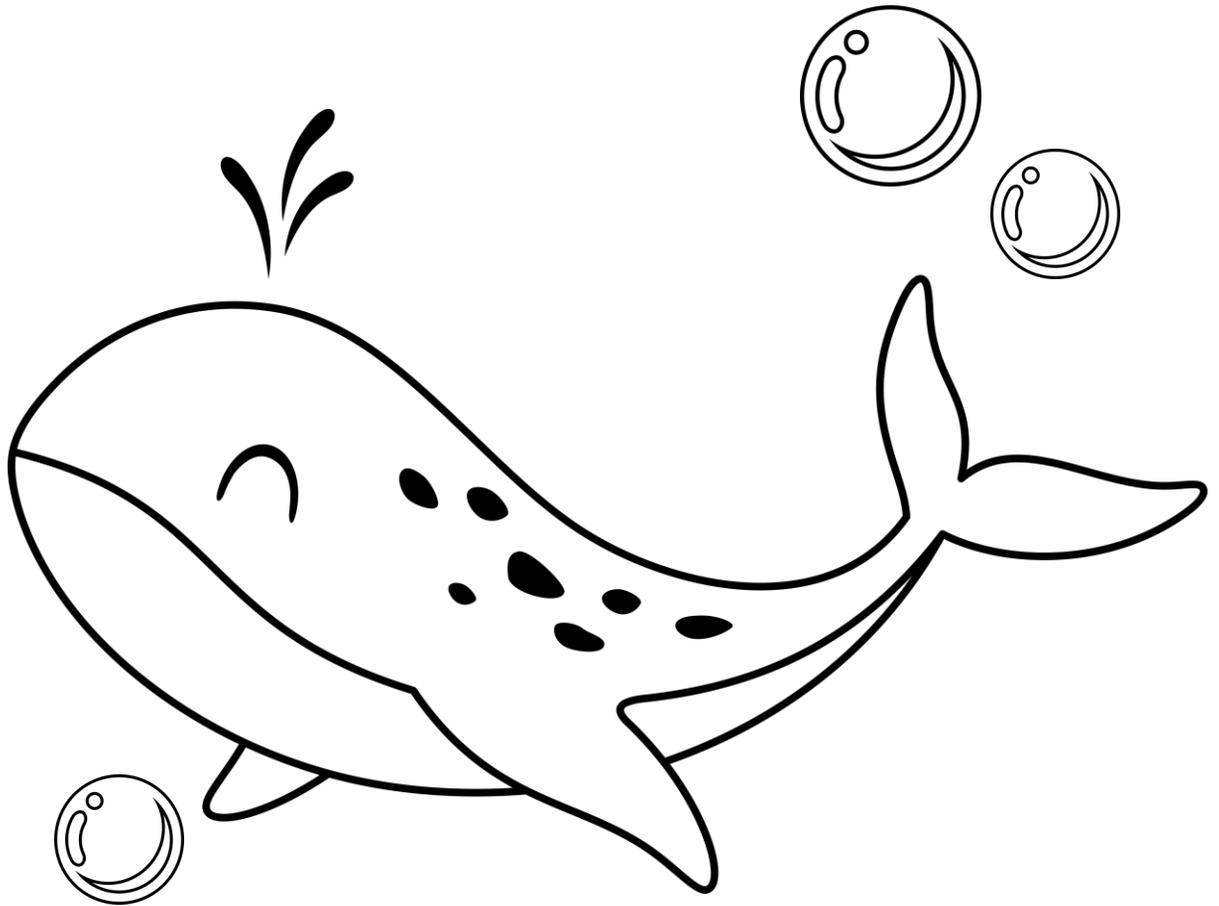

SEAL

Seals can sleep in the water or the land.

They use clicking or trilling noises to communicate.

WHALE

Whales have two opening on the top of their heads, called blowholes.

They have a thick layer of fat called blubber, under their skin.